Permission to Video

We use video to record sessions at the Center for educational purposes. Videos are used for us to get supervision from qualified practitioners. It will greatly help support the growth of our field of practice and will improve our practice. Our influences include the BEBA clinic in California (beba.org). I receive supervision from several practitioners who work with babies and children, including Myrna Martin, and Kate White.

I bring the highest integrity to our work together. Please aid us in creating and supporting the pediatric craniosacral profession with your permission to document our work. We will never show your videos to any other than supervisors without your permission. They remain part of your confidential record.

I give permission for our sessions to be videotaped for supervision and educational purposes.
